9. The process WILL ALSO AUTOMATICALLY CHANGE your address for voter registration rolls unless you opt out. Confirm your choice and submit.

The screenshot shows a mobile application interface for changing an address. On the left is a blue sidebar with a 'Back' button and a list of steps: 'New Address', 'Geocoding', 'Select County', 'Verification', and 'Opt-Out'. The 'Opt-Out' step is highlighted with a red circle containing the number '5'. The main content area has a white background with a red dot icon and the heading 'IMPORTANT INFORMATION -- PLEASE READ CAREFULLY'. Below this is a text block explaining that a change in residential address for a driver license also serves as a change for voter registration unless opted out. There are three radio button options: the first is selected and states that the address will update voter registration rolls; the second is 'Opt-Out' and states the user does not want their address sent to election officials; the third is 'Opt-Out' and states the user does not want their address change forwarded to election officials. At the bottom are 'Cancel' and 'Submit' buttons.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION -- PLEASE READ CAREFULLY

Federal and state laws require a change in residential address for your driver license to also serve as a change of address for your voter registration, but only if you are presently registered to vote. If you check the "opt-out" box below, your address change will be processed only by the BMV and will not change your voter registration address with election officials.

- I understand that the address I provided to the BMV today will also update my address on the voter registration rolls only if I am a registered voter.
- Opt-Out: This is not my residential address. I do not want this information sent to election officials to change my residential address for voting purposes.
- Opt-Out: I do not want this change of address information forwarded to election officials for purposes of updating my voter registration address.

Note: The BMV will send you a card or other documentation that will need to be carried with you at all times while you drive – this card will match what the BMV computer system has on file for your records.

Thank you.
